Crystals

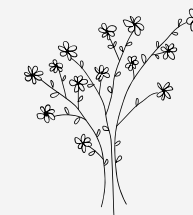

Crystals are made up of different elements or compounds, which our bodies react to in different ways.

Crystals are minerals that hold energy, and as we as humans are made up of energy, we can exchange energy with the crystal when we work with it.

Candles

A scented candle, made with fragrant oils mixed into the wax, gives off a pleasant aroma when burning. Scented candles not only add to a decorative interior but a pleasant-smelling air. It also introduces your unique personal touch

Resin Art

The process of making these stunning creations in the public eye. With resin art, you can create works of art that enchant with their clarity, luminosity, brilliance and depth also capture memories and store in the way one desire.
